*Census designated places (CDPs) are delineated for each decennial census as the statistical counterparts of incorporated places. CDPs are delineated to provide data for settled concentrations of population that are identifiable by name but are not legally incorporated under the laws of the state in which they are located. The boundaries usually are defined in cooperation with local and tribal officials. These boundaries, which usually coincide with visible features or the boundary of an adjacent incorporated place or other legal entity boundary, have no legal status, nor do these places have officials elected to serve traditional municipal functions.

Rocky Boy's Reservation

The Rocky Boy's Reservation, located in north-central Montana, encompasses 122,000 acres of rolling high-plains grasslands to the sub-alpine mountains of the Bear Paw. Located nearly 50 miles south of the Alberta and Saskatchewan Canadian border, the reservation is home to 55% of the 5,656 enrolled Chippewa Cree tribal members.

The economy is primarily supported by agriculture and livestock. Wheat, barley, and cattle are raised on the tribally owned Dry Fork Farm and Ranch and Stone Man Farms. A key ingredient for continued agricultural and recreational development is water. The Chippewa Cree Tribal Construction Company is currently constructing a system that will transport water from the Tiber reservoir to the reservation and fulfill an objective of the North Central Montana Regional Water Coordinating Committee.

The majority of reservation residents work for the self-governing Chippewa Cree Tribe providing work to 241 residents. Compacts are maintained with the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) and Indian Health Service providing two BIA employees and 91 staff member's opportunities within the Rocky Boy Health Board. Other employers include: Rocky Boy public schools (156), Stone Child Community College (56), Chippewa Cree Construction Company (28), Chippewa Cree Construction Corporation (16), National Tribal Development Association (9), RJS & Associates (4), and Chippewa Cree Housing Authority (30).

Stone Child Community College provides distance learning for its students, administers an endowment for undergraduate and graduate degree students, offers a teacher training program, and is developing a pre-engineering program for transfer to a baccalaureate. The Tribe coordinates with the college to ensure revitalization of the Chippewa Cree language, culture, values, and traditions respected by the community and leaders. Stone Child's completion of a Vo-Tech Center will provide the foundation for workforce development in construction technology, artistry and engineering and provide a skilled labor force for the Chippewa Cree Construction Company.

Stone Child, Tribal Employment Rights Office (TERO) and NorthWinz Casino (scheduled to open in January 2007) are partnering to train 34 employees for various casino positions. Negotiations for an ethanol plant and continued partnerships with the private sector provide many opportunities for social and economic development for the 37% of the reservation's 18 and younger enrolled residents.

Rocky Boy's Reservation - Distribution of Income by Family and Household from Census 2000

Household Income: This includes the income of the householder and all other individuals 15 years old and over in the household, whether they are related to the householder or not. Because many households consist of only one person, average household income is usually less than average family income.

Family Income: In compiling statistics on family income, the incomes of all members 15 years old and over related to the householder are summed and treated as a single amount.
